Washington Quake Kills 5, Damage Up In Millions

U.S. 'Invasion' Condemned In Latin America

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.S. landing in the Dominican Republic aroused criticism and bitter memories among Latin Americans today. "They'll be stoning U.S. embassies all over," said one Latin American diplomat at the United Nations.

President Raul Leoni of Venezuela, in telegrams to President Arturo Illia of Argentina and Eduardo Frei of Chile, was reported to have termed the U.S. action an "invasion" and a "violation of the treaties of the Organization of American States."

Latin American diplomats at the U.N. greeted with public reserve U.S. chief delegate Adlai E. Stevenson's letter to the Security Council stating U.S. forces had been sent to the Dominican Republic "to protect American citizens still there and to escort them to safety from the country."

But privately the diplomats predicted that the public reaction in Latin America would be bad. Some said the affair would help Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

One diplomat said the reaction would be "very angry and bitter." Another noted that the U.S. Marines "have a very bad connotation" in Latin America. "It's back to 1916 again," one diplomat said, citing the year U.S. Marines began an eight-year occupation of the Dominican Republic with the avowed purpose of protecting U.S. interests.

Some said the Americans in the Dominican Republic had not been harmed and could have been saved without U.S. troops. From the Communist camp came the expected condemnations.

Sending Marines Was Wise Move, Eisenhower Says

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower said today that President Johnson did "a sensible thing" in sending Marines to protect American citizens in the strife-torn Dominican Republic. "I have nothing to criticize, certainly," he added. "It looks like the President has things under control. As I've told my newspaper friends, there is only one man who can handle foreign relations and that's the President. It looks to me like he's done a sensible thing."

Eisenhower commented on the Dominican situation during a train-side interview following his return, with his wife, Mamie, from their annual winter vacation in Palm Desert, Calif.

Seattle Hardest Hit; 8 Public Schools Closed

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Washington state counted five dead today and damage in the millions of dollars in the wake of the Pacific Northwest's worst earthquake in more than a decade.

In Seattle, the hardest hit area, Frank Brock, assistant superintendent of schools, said the loss to the system "should easily be in excess of $1 million."

Eight public schools were closed and two may not be back in operation for some time, he said.

Ensley Llewellyn, state Civil Defense director, said it was impossible to give an accurate damage estimate until reports from around the state had been compiled.

Capitol Loss Heaviest

Llewellyn estimated damage to light fixtures and elevator shafts in the State Capitol building at Olympia at $200,000 and damage to a road and railroad in the area at possibly another $200,000.

Some roads heaved upward, others sagged downward; bridges swayed and some freeway ramps buckled as the tremor rolled through at 8:29 a.m. (Pacific Daylight Time) Thursday.

Raymond Haughton, 52, and Eugene Goulet, 40, were near a 14-story tower at the Fisher Flouring Mills when a 50,000-gallon wooden water tank atop the structure exploded. Torrents of water and twisted timbers cascaded down upon them. Haughton died in the debris, Goulet was injured critically.

Buried In Bricks

Adolphus Lewis, 60, was hurrying in the bright sun to his usual morning breakfast of mush and tea at a restaurant near his downtown rooming house. A concrete parapet struck him down. A pile of bricks quickly covered the dead man.

Mrs. James Johnson, 56, of Seattle, died while talking on the telephone. Ethel Webb, 75, Tacoma and Zenola Lorenz, Olympia, were found dead. All were victims of heart attacks.

More than 30 persons were injured and treated at hospitals in the Seattle area. Dozens were reported to have suffered minor injuries elsewhere throughout the shaken region.

The earthquake knocked the needles off the University of Washington seismograph, but seismologists elsewhere said it registered 6.5 to 7 on the Richter Scale. The devastating Alaska earthquake of March 27, 1964, was rated at 8.3 on the Richter Scale. That one killed 113.

Stronger Than 1949

Just 16 years ago this month the Pacific Northwest was jolted by an earthquake that registered 7 on the scale. That tremor, on April 13, 1949, killed eight persons and did $25 million in property damage.

Although Norman Rasmussen, university seismologist, was unable to get a Richter reading, he said he measured the quake on the Mercalli Scale and that it showed "Thursday's" stronger than the one in 1949.

Rasmussen said death and destruction from this quake would be lighter, however, because the tremor started an estimated 30 miles below the surface of the ground.

The epicenter was pinpointed in the vicinity of Dabob Bay on Hood Canal about 30 miles west-northwest of Seattle.

The quake rumbled through British Columbia where buildings swayed and windows rattled on coastal Vancouver Island and 300 miles inland at Trail. It was felt in northern Idaho, western Montana and Oregon, but no injuries or damage were reported in those states.

Allies Asked To Aid Peace In Santo Domingo

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States pressed its Western Hemisphere allies today to take up immediately the task of saving lives and restoring peace and order in the revolt-torn Dominican Republic.

Officials said that, under action by the Organization of American States, Washington would welcome quick participation by the troops of other American nations in the Dominican rescue operation.

In a midnight session running into the early hours of today, the OAS Council called a consultative meeting here at the foreign minister level for Saturday morning — a day later than the United States had asked for — but with a prospect of quick new action.

In the night session the OAS also passed a resolution: 1. Calling on all factions involved in the bloody and riotous violence in the Dominican capital, Santo Domingo, to seek an immediate cease-fire.

2. Appealing for establishment of an international zone of refuge in the embassy area of the capital where six embassies, including that of the United States, were attacked and one, that of El Salvador, was sacked and burned.

Behind the scenes here there is continuing deep concern of the extent to which the rebellion, which originally developed a week ago, has fallen under the leadership of various pro-Castro elements.

Disaster Region Loans Extended

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate banking subcommittee approved Thursday a bill extending the disaster loan program for areas hit by floods and tornadoes.

The measure would extend the time period for 3 per cent disaster loans by the Small Business Administration to home owners and business men from 20 years to 30 years. It also would authorize a five year suspension of disaster loan interest and payments in cases of extreme hardship.

Anarchy Threatens Dominican Republic

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — American airborne troops landed in the Dominican Republic early today, swelling the number of U.S. forces in the country to 4,200 men as civil war dragged Santo Domingo to the point of anarchy.

The two-day-old military junta appealed for intervention by American troops to help restore order, but U.S. officials said action other than to protect American lives and property would require authorization from the Organization of American States.

Communists Watched

However, President Johnson's administration was authoritatively reported in Washington to be on the alert for action to meet any Communist threat to take over the Dominican Republic or plunge it into a Communist "war of liberation."

U.S. officials in Santo Domingo released a list of 52 members of Dominican Communist organizations who they said were believed to have played key roles in the six-day-old rebellion. Beside the name of each man was the Communist country where he was said to have trained — Cuba, China or the Soviet Union.

The rebellion was launched by a group of young army artillery officers seeking to return ousted President Juan Bosch to office. But U.S. officials in Santo Domingo and other observers believe no one now is in control — or could regain control — of the armed rebel bands, which include many young civilians.

American officials hinted strongly that it would be necessary for American troops to occupy Santo Domingo to end the fighting.

"The rebels are a determined group of people who have gone beyond the point of no return, and they are going to keep going until they bring the country down around their necks," one observer said.

Officials said the situation was rapidly approaching anarchy — a total absence of government, law and order. Estimates of the dead ranged from 400 to more than 1,000. However, no American casualties were reported.

The Marines had set up an evacuation center at a polo field near the plush Embajador (Ambassador) Hotel on the outskirts of Santo Domingo. U.S. officials said Thursday night that 1,400 refugees, most of them Americans, had been evacuated. They said 650 were waiting at the hotel and at the polo grounds, and many others were still in Santo Domingo.

The Marines rescued 150 Latin-American nationals from the downtown area. Refugees were being processed at the Embassy by U.S. Navy personnel. They were accepting all Americans or citizens of other countries, plus Dominicans who show evidence of an American in the family.

Evacuees were taken to the polo field, where tents have been erected. They waited there for helicopters to take them to the aircraft carrier Boxer off shore.

Each refugee was allowed to take a maximum of two bags. Many left carrying children in their arms.

The Marines also set up de-

Flood Hammers At Three States As Dikes Hold

By The Associated Press
The swollen Mississippi River hampered at western Illinois, eastern Iowa and northeastern Missouri today as reinforced dikes held back the surging waters.

The crest receded from its 22.48-foot record at Rock Island, Ill., and advanced toward Keithsburg, Ill., a town of 963 about 55 miles downstream from the Rock Island-Davenport, Iowa, industrial complex.

The river held at 24 feet in Quincy in west-central Illinois. At Fulton, Ill., Gov. Otto Kerner called out 30 more National Guardsmen to help the 3,400 residents in the town surrounded by water.

The Red Cross reported that a dike patrolman fell through a three-foot breach in a levee along flooding Eliza Creek near Aledo, northeast of Keithsburg, but was quickly rescued. His identity was unavailable.

Workers quickly clogged the crack with 1,500 sandbags. Some 25,000 acres of farmland and 100 homes would have been flooded if the dike broke, the Red Cross said.

The Red Cross estimates that the Mississippi flooding has made more than 38,000 persons homeless. Red Cross workers are feeding 11,650 flood volunteers and housing 1,375 evacuees in 19 shelters along the Mississippi.

Most of Quincy's 45,000 residents live on a high bluff overlooking the river. But the dike protecting an industrial complex along the roaring Mississippi burst Wednesday night.

Later, three secondary levees also gave way, one developing a 300-foot gash. But most of the 5,500-acre area remained undamaged behind sandbags.

Quincy has become a railroad center because of the floods. The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad; the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railroad, and other carriers re-routed their main lines through the city because Quincy is one of the few points where they can cross the river.

McDonald Will Challenge Abel Victory In USW

PITTSBURGH (AP) — I. W. Abel was declared the victor today in a bitter fight for president of the United Steelworkers Union, and incumbent David J. McDonald said he will contest the result.

"I am president of this union until the first of June," McDonald told a news conference.

Asked if he would appeal to the Labor Department for an investigation aimed at a new election, McDonald said: "We'll cross that bridge when we come to it."

Union tellers announced Abel, 56-year-old secretary-treasurer of the USW, beat long-time President David J. McDonald by 10,142 votes in the Feb. 9 election. The tellers' report said Abel polled 308,910 votes and McDonald 298,768.

Abel will take office June 1 for a four-year term. It had been reported earlier that much of Abel's majority was won in Canada.

Joseph P. Molony was declared the elected vice president and Walter J. Burke secretary-treasurer. They ran on Abel's ticket.

The report said Molony defeated incumbent Howard Hague, 300,419 to 278,786. Burke polled 313,239 votes to defeat A. Whitehouse who had 266,381.

The tellers' report said the votes of 41 of the union's approximately 3,300 locals were not counted because of various irregularities.

Pope Against Guerrilla Wars

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI condemned guerrilla warfare and "ever growing" acts of war today in clear reference to the Viet Nam conflict. He appealed for "conversations and negotiations at all levels."

In the second encyclical letter of his reign, the pontiff noted that the month of May is especially dedicated to Mary. He said that it should be a time for special prayers to her, with the international situation "darker and more uncertain than ever, now that grave new threats are endangering the supreme benefit of world peace."

He did not specifically name any world trouble spot, but he seemed to have Viet Nam in mind in particular. His encyclical, announced unexpectedly Thursday, also was issued with a background of strife in the Dominican Republic.

He denounced "acts of guerrilla warfare and of terrorism" as well as the "practice of holding hostages and of taking reprisals against unarmed civilians." He also made a comment that appeared aimed at any policy of escalation in Viet Nam or at any recruitment of volunteers by Communists outside Southeast Asia. Entire nations, he said, "are subjected to unspeakable sufferings caused by agitation, guerrilla warfare, acts of war, ever growing in extent and intensity, which could at any moment produce a spark for a terrible fresh conflict."

Johnson Likes His Back Yard Walkie-Talkies

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House is sparkling in the spring and a peripatetic President has turned himself into a modern-day Aristotle — of sorts — with increasing frequency in the balmy, beautiful weather.

President Johnson likes to walk and talk, particularly to walk and talk at the same time. So he had another walkie-talkie tour of the back yard Thursday with perhaps 50 reporters in tow.

It was much like the days of the Greeks, when Aristotle lectured his pupils while strolling through the Lyceum Gymnasium in Athens. "Peripatetic" means walking around, and Aristotle founded a peripatetic school of philosophy.

LBJ founded the peripatetic press conference.

These take place with no regularity, any more than do any other presidential press conferences. But they seem to have more appeal to the President in the spring. This one took a small detour from the customary route, into the new east garden named for Mrs. John F. Kennedy.

New Feature Added

There was another new feature — a Secret Service man edged through the throng of reporters surrounding Johnson, whispered in his ear, and the President hurried over to a telephone on the wall of the rear portico, a telephone usually used by the White House police. He talked for five minutes or so and returned to the parade route with not a word on what it was about.

But this was a man who has cause for concern about fighting involving American troops in areas a hemisphere apart — in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic. Whether the call had anything to do with either arena, there was no way of telling.

Off The Record

And perhaps the walk served as a means of showing that there was no lack of confidence and no presence of alarm in the presidential bearing. Johnson seemed to be at ease and not too perturbed about anything.

By presidential edict, these walks are off the record, for the most part, so far as what the President says is concerned. He ranges the world and the nation, just as he does in on-the-record news conferences, but often talks a little more freely. Sometimes it is a monologue for a while. And always there are questions and Johnson can answer them or talk around them as he sees fit.

Now and then he stops short to emphasize a point and pursuers stumble to a halt, stepping on heels and toes.

High Heels Handicap

The route is the circular driveway, flattened on the far side, that swings behind the rear entrance beneath the Truman balcony. It goes down a slight decline, straightens out past a fountain, and goes up a slight slope. It shouldn't be too severe a course except the conditions aren't ideal when a pack of newsmen and newsmen all want to be at the presidential elbow.

And along the sides there are some hazards. Peter Lisagor of the Chicago Daily News once was more intent on the President than on a lamp post and a consequent collision brought a gash in his forehead that required a bandage. Another time

North Viet Nam Depots Bombed

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. jets smashed two major ammunition and supply depots in North Viet Nam today, U.S. spokesmen reported. The aerial success came after several days of relatively fruitless attacks on North Viet Nam's highways and bridges.

One of the targets hit today was only 75 miles south of Hanoi.

Fifty-one A1 Skyraiders and A4 Skyhawks from the carriers Hancock and Midway hit the Phien Linh Dong army supply depot, 75 miles from the North Vietnamese capital, and the Phu Qui ammunition depot, 25 miles farther south.

The pilots reported that 15 buildings were destroyed, seven were damaged and four railroad box cars knocked out.

The American planes dropped

59 tons of bombs and hit their targets with rockets and 20mm cannon fire.

All the planes returned safely to their carriers, the spokesmen said.

A U.S. Army helicopter gunner was wounded slightly during a combat assault 25 miles south of Saigon.

A U.S. military spokesman reported that the big infantry sweep through the swamps of Kien Hoa Province, in the Mekong Delta 60 miles southwest of Saigon, had turned up a large Viet Cong arms cache.

The 7th Division troops at last report had counted about 600 arms, including some American Springfield rifles and a ton of high explosives. Many of the arms were still coated with protective covering and were wrapped in heavy paper.

Delta Has Eight In Scholarship Listing Of U-M

University of Michigan Regents-Alumni scholarships have been awarded to 879 Michigan high school seniors including 8 from Delta County.

The winners were selected by the Committee on University Scholarships from 2,568 applicants representing 547 state high schools. Last year 805 seniors in 449 high schools won the scholarships.

Stipends vary according to the financial need of the winners, and range from an honorary $50 entrance award to a $560 per-year grant. Awards continue for the normal length of the student's degree program if his academic record justifies renewal.

Each accredited high school is entitled to at least one of the scholarships if a qualified senior applies. The additional awards are granted at large on the basis of statewide comparison of applicants from the participating schools. There are no limits on the number of applicants from, or awards to, any one school.

In evaluating the applica-

Ranger Station Site Enlarged

Bob Roberts of Rapid River handed Sherwood Trotter, supervisor of the Hiawatha National Forest, a deed for 32 acres of land this week.

The land joins the present Rapid River ranger station site. The acquisition of this site by the U.S. Forest Service will permit the expansion of the ranger station facilities and make possible a change in the driveway entrances. The proposed new entry to the ranger station from Highway U.S.-2 will be in a safer location with visibility enhanced.

The present ranger station site includes the ranger district headquarters and both the construction and maintenance unit shops and the forest mechanic shop for the entire Hiawatha National Forest.

The land patent record shows this parcel of land was originally granted to the State of Michigan by the United States in 1870. This grant was to encourage railroad development.

The State of Michigan in turn deeded this land to the Chicago & North Western Railway in 1874. The railroad right-of-way is now located on the south edge of this property.

The Chicago & North Western Railway by warranty deed granted this land to Edwin Roberts of Delta County on Oct. 5, 1876. It has remained as property of the Roberts family from that time to this date.

The present ranger station grounds were purchased by the United States from Ida Ethier, a daughter of Edwin Roberts, in 1936.

The property purchased by the Forest Service includes the residence of Bob Roberts. He and his family will move from this location prior to expansion of the ranger station facilities.

Gas Forums Ended By City

City Council's last public forum of a series on its proposal to sell the city-owned gas utility to Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. for $725,000 was held at the Escanaba Area Junior High School Thursday evening and drew only 7 persons aside from the city officials.

Two were girls from the school government class, two women were from the League of Women Voters, two men were interested in the issue as citizens or fuel dealers, and one was the school janitor.

The questions were mostly familiar, having been asked in earlier forum sessions. New were:

Q. If the city has so many pending financial problems, why sell a utility with such financial potential?

A. City Controller Frank Bourke: We're unaware of any pending financial problems, we have only the normal problems of municipal government. The Black & Veatch engineering study didn't indicate any earning potential.

Q. If the gas utility didn't earn anything why was the reserve fund increased from $275,000 to $315,000 between Dec. 31, 1963 and June 30, 1964.

A. There's a difference between earnings and reserves to cover liability insurance, etc.

Q. Why was the area high school hooked up to the city steam plant if the city was losing money on the steam plant.

A. It wasn't. But it's hooked up for gas.

Escanaba will vote June 1 on the question of selling the gas utility. A 60 per cent Yes vote will be required to authorize sale. If the city keeps its utility it will convert it to natural gas from the present propane air gas.

Utility Buys Autos In U.P.

Bids for nearly $90,000 worth of cars, trucks and tractors have been accepted by Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. from five Upper Peninsula automotive agencies.

The utility purchased 10 cars, 22 trucks, and two tractors with a total value of $89,646 as part of its expansion program which will bring natural gas service for the first time to 34 Upper Peninsula communities this summer.

Successful bidders were the Riverside Auto Sales and Northern Motor Co., both of Escanaba; Lindstrom's Iron River Garage, Iron River; Ken's Motor Sales, Iron Mountain; and Bero Implement Co., Gladstone.

Michigan Consolidated will spend some $14 million to bring natural gas to customers in the south-central part of the Upper Peninsula.

Construction is scheduled to start in early May as soon as final approval of the project is received from the Federal Power Commission.

Art Workshop At Stephenson School In May

STEPHENSON — Approximately 50 teachers from Menominee County will participate in an Art Workshop on May 18, 19 and 20, 1965 at the Stephenson Elementary School. Classes will start at 4 p. m. and end at 9:30 p. m. A luncheon will be served at the school for a nominal fee.

The Art Workshop is a free educational service provided by the Binney and Smith, Incorporated who are manufacturers of the crayola crayons and other school art supplies. Teachers who desire credit may qualify for one semester hour if the tuition fee of $20 is paid to Northern Michigan University.

Miss Sigrid Rasmussen who has taught extensively and holds a Master's Degree from Columbia University will conduct the workshop. Teachers will devote 15 hours of their own time learning about modern creative art education and some of its materials and tools.

They will "learn by doing". Rolling up their sleeves, they will try out the techniques presented by Miss Rasmussen. The techniques will include uses of crayons, water colors, poster paints, finger paints, colored chalk, and modeling clay. Simple craft techniques will also be shown, giving teachers an opportunity to work with paper, paste and other materials to gain three-dimensional effects. All of the Art Workshop activities will be experiences which the teachers can relate to their own class room teaching.

For additional information, interested persons may communicate with the Office of the Superintendent of Schools at Stephenson.

Bronco

Ford Division said today its 1966 lines will include a small four-wheel drive utility vehicle called the "Bronco." The Bronco will draw on the experience Ford had in building the M-151—a military utility vehicle popularly known as the "MUTT."

Crafts Exhibit Offers Variety

Although the theme of the 6th annual Upper Peninsula Crafts and Native Industries Exhibit and Conference will be "Creative Use of Wood in Upper Peninsula Crafts", several other crafts will be demonstrated and exhibited at the conference.

The conference will be held in the new gym of Iron Mountain High School on Saturday, May 8. It is sponsored by the Upper Peninsula Crafts Council with the assistance of the University of Michigan, Michigan State University, Michigan Tech and Northern Michigan University.

Norwegian rosemaling, which is a growing craft in the Upper Peninsula, will be demonstrated by Mrs. Pat Virch of Marquette. She will show how traditional Norwegian designs are painted on wooden articles. She is teaching rosemaling to people in the Marquette area and has developed much interest in the craft.

Miss Eila Karsikas of Laurium will demonstrate how she makes articles out of silver. Miss Karsikas obtained her training in silversmithing in Toronto, Canada and has been long recognized along with Miss Olive Craig of Sault Ste. Marie, as one of the outstanding silversmiths in Upper Michigan.

Mrs. R. G. Schaal of Ishpeming and Mrs. Maxine Abata of Iron Mountain will demonstrate the art of weaving. Mrs. Schaal is a skillful weaver and will act as chairman of the exhibit in weaving. Mrs. Abata will not only demonstrate her weaving but also carding wool and spinning it.

C. Tom Erickson of Iron Mountain with some of the Explorer Scouts under his leadership will demonstrate Indian crafts. They will show how Indians decorate leather with beads and porcupine quills and will demonstrate their skill in making bows and arrows among other Indian craft items.

Mrs. Anita Meyland of Marquette is going to be in charge of the "Floor Show in the Rugery". She will exhibit the work of a number of rug weavers in this area and will explain how it is done.

Henry Anderson of Calumet and Mrs. Alice Reynolds of Eagle River, Mich., will demonstrate the use of the silk screen process in transferring designs made by craftsmen to craft items and to paper.

Wood carving will be featured at the conference and several Upper Peninsula woodcarvers have consented to exhibit their creations and demonstrate skill to visitors to the exhibit.

Other crafts may be demonstrated, particularly work in lapidary items such as agates and other semiprecious stones.

For information concerning the conference and application blanks for reservation of exhibition space may be had from Charles Folio, conference chairman, University of Michigan Extension Service, P. O. Box 394, Escanaba.

Two Pound Perch Opens Contest

SAULT STE. MARIE—The annual Chippewa County Big Fish Contest opened with a bang last weekend when William Wolf of Taylor Center, Mich., checked in with a two pound, six ounce yellow perch from Drummond Island waters. Wolf caught his perch on a minnow at Scammon Cove, with Thiel Bailey, Drummond businessman. Their total catch numbered 11 fish weighing 15 pounds.

Wolf's perch is believed to be one of the largest caught in local waters in recent years, although it does not approach the state record of three pounds, 12 ounces, listed by the Conservation Department.

The Salvation Army, founded in London by William Booth, celebrates its 100th anniversary in 1965.

Stephenson Is Considered For Student Teaching

STEPHENSON—The Stephenson Consolidated School System is under consideration by Northern Michigan University as a student teaching center for college students who plan to prepare for teaching as a career. Dr. Edward L. Ruman and Dr. Eldon A. Koplin, representatives of the University, have conferred with the school authorities about the mutual responsibilities of the proposed student teaching plan.

The Board of Education of the Stephenson Consolidated Schools has approved the general plan. College students, assigned by the University, would live in the community and work under the supervision of

Let's See, Now, Where Were We?

Six Million Bucks

A U.S. Senate subcommittee has restored a $6 million appropriation for federal purchase of the 18,000-acre Sylvania Tract in Gogebic County as an addition to the Ottawa National Forest. The appropriation was restored at the urging of Senator Philip A. Hart (D-Mich) after it had been deleted by the House Appropriations Committee.

Hart told the subcommittee that the Forest Service has called the tract the "most outstanding possibility we have for acquisition of a recreational area" and that it would be "up for grabs" if Congress doesn't buy it.

The tract is one of the finest stands of old timber in a lake situation in the Northern Hemisphere and a recreational prize of the highest order. For the government to suggest that it will be "up for grabs" unless it grabs it is reminiscent of the wonderful nonsense of rationing days when people rushed to buy sugar and other scarce items patriotically "before the hoarders get it."

The reason that Sylvania is such a gem of historic forest is because it has been in private ownership. The same is true of the Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co. forest which the Park Service wants for the Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore. "It's such a beautiful forest," said CCI Forester David West "because we managed it and made it that way—not nature."

After more than a century of private forest land-holding in the Upper Peninsula we have achieved a complete face-about on policy. Until rather recently there was little government thought of esthetic values or recreational values in land stewardship. Government would not encourage with its tax policy any private ventures in sustained yield forestry or preservation of scenic values. Despite this there were some major private projects to preserve our forest heritage. Sylvania was one of these.

In the period when it harvested the results of its tax 'em to death policy on forest lands, government acquired huge acreage in the Upper Peninsula, but not its prime recreational assets. Now, in its new awareness of the importance of recreation, it is launched on a huge program of land acquisition. Sylvania is only one poker chip in a big game.

There is a sensible reason to question all the items of this program and it is that the private sector of recreation is a big and growing and important sector. The American people should not encourage their empire-building forest and park services to acquire all the lake-front, forest, mountain peaks and orchid swamps that they desire without consideration of the private sector.

It would be a deadly injury to posterity to make government the sole custodian of our recreation and to use the public purse to kill off all private competition with our government parks, swimming beaches, campgrounds and forests. The need looms too large to be left to the public (government) sector alone, it will be too expensive taxwise, it will be too costly in killing competitive enterprise and it will condemn America to acceptance of the "madding throng" style of outdoor recreation.

Sylvania would be a great recreational addition to the Ottawa Forest and maybe it should go there. But not as a matter of public right and not before the competitive possibilities of private development are considered. The great cry to put some of our natural resources in the public domain for their preservation can be the means of their extinction, too.

Sylvania is so valuable that it is inconceivable that it could be destroyed in a logging orgy. Any logger who could pay its worth would know that it wasn't worth that much as sawlogs. The Forest Service is saying that intensive settlement would destroy its greatest value, but intensive usage will mar it somewhat.

The Doctor Says:

Chlorinated Water Helps

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt

Q — Will chlorinated water in swimming pools be harmful to children, especially if they have a tendency to have ear-aches or sore throats?

A — On the contrary, properly chlorinated water will help to prevent infections of all kinds. Of even greater help is the exclusion from the pool of persons with skin infections, recent smallpox vaccinations, sore throats and other respiratory infections, pink eye or diarrhea. Wellrun public pools are less likely to spread infections than unchlorinated lakes and pools.

Q — I have been told to put copper sulfate in my backyard swimming pool. What would this accomplish?

A — Copper sulfate is added to some pools to kill snails. This is especially important in areas where blood flukes are prevalent. For most backyard swimming pools the addition of alum to remove murkiness and chlorine or bromine to kill bacteria and viruses is recommended. There should also be a continuous or a weekly complete change of water.

Q — I have been lying down and taking a nap for about an hour after lunch for several years. Some of my friends say this is harmful. What do you think?

A — In these hurried times there is no better way to preserve both your health and your sanity than to take a short nap after lunch. Too few persons are situated where it is convenient to do this, but even 10 or 15 minutes of complete relaxation in the middle of the day can give you renewed vigor for the afternoon's work.

Q — My mother, who is 60 and has osteomalacia, fell and broke her shoulder. Her doctor said he couldn't set the fracture because the bones are so soft. What would you advise?

Miss Belleville Passes Insurance Agent's Exam

MANISTIQUE — Katherine A. Belleville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ovilva Belleville, 507 Garden Ave., has successfully completed a 10-day fundamental insurance course at Michigan State University and passed the state licensed agent's examination with a 97 grade.

She was born here and is a graduate of Manistique High School's class of 1960. She was employed in the county treasurer's office and by the welfare department before joining the staff of Savings Assurance Agency in 1963. She became the fourth agent on the staff of the agency, largest in the county.

Other members of the agency are William L. Hentschell, owner-agent, his father, R. G. Hentschell, agent and manager, Mrs. Beverly A. Jahn, agent, Mrs. Lillian Lindberg, cashier, and Miss Elizabeth Smethurst, solicitor in the Naubinway area.

Sneers At Clock

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Despite several recent criticisms of George Reedy by reporters, Elizabeth Carpenter, press secretary to the First Lady, thinks he is the ideal man to be the President's press secretary.

Explains Mrs. Carpenter: "He has too much political experience to run for cover — and too little to run for the Senate."

Vice Adm. William F. Raborn, new Central Intelligence Agency boss, is as hard-working as his former chief, Defense Secretary Robert McNamara.

Raborn's Pentagon staff operated most of the time on a standard six-day working week, often even longer. To a subordinate who once complained of pressing domestic errands, Raborn advised: "I recognize you can't use Saturday mornings to get the groceries any more. Now use Thursday evenings or — even better — get your wife to do the shopping like I do. "That's called leadership."

Cub Scout Meeting Held At Bark River

BARK RIVER—Bark River Cub Scout Pack 445 held its regular monthly meeting Monday, April 26, at the Bark River-Harris Elementary School. The meeting opened with the presentation of colors by Cubs Bruce Bell, Robert Larson, Vernon Chase and Robert Bash.

Den III won the traveling trophy for having the highest percentage of parents present. Results of the Kite Contest held Sunday afternoon were announced and the winners were presented with prizes: Philip Norman Jr., 1st; Vernon Chase, 2nd; Del Quist, 3rd. These three winners will go to the District Contest.

Del Quist was presented with a certificate of merit for participation in the Nathan Hale Youth Patriotic Awards program, by Cub Master Philip Norman Sr. and read his essay on "Why I Love America."

The program was presented by Den III under the direction of Den Mothers Mrs. Ronald Hurtibese and Mrs. Hector Larson. This consisted of two skits, "Don't Be a Litterbug" and "Smoky, the Bear." Cubs in the skits were Robert Larson, Dennis Moniowiczak, Dale Kwarciyan, William Belanger and Keith Hurtibese.

A "Get Well" card was signed by all Cubs and leaders present and sent to Cub Kris Erickson who is a surgical patient in St. Mary's Hospital in Rochester, Minn.

Cub Master Norman reminded all Cubs not to forget Mother's Day on May 9. The meeting closed with the Cubmaster reading a poem entitled "One Small Boy." Den I mothers served the lunch.

It was recently suggested that Reps. Herman Toll, D-Pa., and John Rhodes, R-Ariz., co-sponsor legislation of any kind, which would thereafter, naturally, he called the "Toll-Rhodes" bill.

Then, somebody proposed the "Toll-Rhodes" bill should exempt two-wheeled vehicles from highway charges. This, of course, would be introduced in the Senate by Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., (pronounced "bye") and in the House by Rep. Carlton Sickles, D-Md., thus becoming the "Bayh-Sickles" amendment.

Sickles, though, vetoes the idea. "It would take too many riders, I'm afraid," he explains.

Mackinaw Will Enact Massacre

MACKINAW CITY — If warhorns startle visitors to this village at the south end of the Mackinac Bridge, they need not be alarmed. Local residents may just be rehearsing for the annual reenactment of the massacre at Fort Michilimackinac scheduled for May 29, 30 and 31. Now an annual event, the pageant is attracting national attention.

Fort Michilimackinac, now rebuilt exactly as it appeared when occupied by the British from 1761 — when it was taken from the French — until 1781, was visited in 1763 by tribes of Indians who announced that they would play intertribal games of bagatway (lacrosse) in front of the fort. The ball was knocked toward the entrance, the braves streamed after it, nearly all the garrison were slain or captured. This was part of the conspiracy of the great Chief Pontiac to wrest the entire Great Lakes' area from the British.

It Happened Ann Landers On This Date

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Friday, April 30, the 120th day of 1965. There are 245 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1789, George Washington was inaugurated as the first president of the United States in a ceremony in New York City, then the capital of the new nation.

On this date

In 1598, an expedition led by Juan de Onate arrived at the Rio Grande River opposite what is now El Paso, Texas, and took possession of the country for Spain.

In 1810, the U.S. general post-office was established.

In 1812, the 18th state, Louisiana, was admitted to the union.

In 1939, the New York World's Fair was opened by President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

In 1945, Moscow announced that the Soviet flag had been raised over the ruins of the Reichstag in Berlin; on the same day Adolf Hitler died in a bunker 30 feet under the city.

Ten years ago — President Dwight Eisenhower disclosed he had exchanged correspondence with Soviet Defense Minister Georgi Zhukov which might "lead to some betterment of the world situation."

Five years ago — The deadlocked disarmament talks in Geneva were adjourned until June 7.

One year ago — Bridge playing teams of the United Arab Republic and Lebanon were ordered not to have any contact with the Israeli team at the World Bridge Olympiad in New York.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a nice looking, middle-aged woman who is slightly overweight. I love good food and I am not going to starve to death to squeeze into a size 14. I see no point in trying to be a carbon copy of those emaciated, consumptive women who call themselves models.

A friend of mine is as skinny as a rat. She passes up desserts and never touches candy, ice cream or sodas. (She says she doesn't care for them.) How can anyone NOT care for hot fudge sauce, whipped cream cake and lemon meringue pie?

Is it possible that she just SAYS she doesn't like these things and that she is really dying inside? I say she is. What do you say? The whole club wants to know.—PLEAS-INGLY PLUMP

Dear Plump: I hope I don't ruin your day, Doll, but it is entirely possible that the skinny rat has no interest in pies, cakes, fudge sauce and other calorie-laden foods.

Some people have a perpetual sweet tooth. Others just don't crave rich foods and can live very nicely without them. (P.S. I enjoy desserts, candy, fudge sauce and the works—and I've been a size 10 for 27 years. So now you can hate both of us.)

Dear Ann Landers: I am in my middle twenties and the mother of three children. Their father was killed in the service last year.

Several months ago I fell in love with a musician who works odd jobs part-time and is now unemployed. Virgil is divorced and his ex-wife has remarried. She has their two children.

I invited Virgil to move in because he was over here all the time anyway. Besides, it was too hard on me to drive him to his rooming house every night, sometimes as late as 4 o'clock in the morning.

When my relatives and friends asked when we got married I was ashamed to tell them the truth so I made up a date. Virgil has not mentioned marriage but I think he would marry me if I asked him to. To be honest I don't want to get married because I would lose the government check that I've gotten ever since my husband was killed. Please give me some practical advice.—DILLY

Skinny Rat May Not Like Sweets

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a nice looking, middle-aged woman who is slightly overweight. I love good food and I am not going to starve to death to squeeze into a size 14. I see no point in trying to be a carbon copy of those emaciated, consumptive women who call themselves models.

A friend of mine is as skinny as a rat. She passes up desserts and never touches candy, ice cream or sodas. (She says she doesn't care for them.) How can anyone NOT care for hot fudge sauce, whipped cream cake and lemon meringue pie?

Is it possible that she just SAYS she doesn't like these things and that she is really dying inside? I say she is. What do you say? The whole club wants to know.—PLEAS-INGLY PLUMP

Dear Plump: I hope I don't ruin your day, Doll, but it is entirely possible that the skinny rat has no interest in pies, cakes, fudge sauce and other calorie-laden foods.

Some people have a perpetual sweet tooth. Others just don't crave rich foods and can live very nicely without them. (P.S. I enjoy desserts, candy, fudge sauce and the works—and I've been a size 10 for 27 years. So now you can hate both of us.)

Dear Ann Landers: I know you aren't a doctor, but can you tell me (and millions of other women) what to do about feet that hurt all the time?

I am a receptionist and must look well from 9 to 5. My legs are a bit on the heavy side and high heels are a must for me.

I tried attractive flats to see if my feet felt better and ended up with terrible pains in my calves. Now I am back on high heels and my feet are killing me.

Are aching feet part of a woman's lot? If you say so I'll accept it and shut up.—BARK-ING DOGS

Dear Dogs: You can do two things to quiet those barking dogs.

(1) Massage your feet with cream (any kind) every night before going to bed.

(2) Buy larger shoes even if it means going up a whole size. Some women don't realize that their feet get larger as time marches on. They continue to ask for the same size instead of a shoe that fits properly.

Awkward and self-conscious? Unsure of yourself? Write for ANN LANDERS' new booklet, "The Key to Popularity," enclosing with your request 35c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Michigan Week will be May 16-22. The week's theme is "Michigan—Dynamic in World Progress."

Delta County committee members met this week at the Chamber of Commerce building to map detailed plans for the observance here. Jack Williams is county chairman.

"We're coming along real well," Williams said. "I think we've planned a real good and diversified program of activities."

Festival Planned

Highlight of the week in Escanaba is expected to be an "International Folk Festival" at William W. Oliver auditorium in the junior high school Wednesday, May 19, at 7:30 p. m.

The festival has been planned by Arol Beck, chairman of Cultural Activities for Michigan Week.

Included in the program will be French Dancers, a Polish orchestra, a Swedish choral group, Croatian dancers, the Delta County square dancers and the Escanaba String Ensemble. The program will close with the entire cast singing "God Bless America."

Other activities planned during the week are false arrests, art exhibits, open houses at government buildings and special displays and radio programs.

Committee chairmen briefly summarized their programs for each day at the meeting.

Sunday (Spiritual Foundations Day), Gerald Schliecher, chairman — Efforts are being made to get co-operation from Delta County clergymen to mention Michigan Week and the spiritual heritage of the state during Sunday morning sermons. Church bells all over the county will ring at noon, signaling the official start of Michigan Week.

Mead Controls Paper Machine With Computer

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio—Mead Corp. revealed today it is successfully using a computer control system in operating a high-speed paper machine.

An IBM 1710 control system is helping achieve significant gains in efficiency, quality and productivity on the No. 4 paper machine at Mead's Chillicothe Paper Co. Division, according to Mead President George H. Pringle.

Following months of engineering effort, extensive additions to the machine's instrumentation and improvements in scheduling procedures, the No. 4 machine has achieved a 20 per cent decrease in grade change time; 15 per cent increase in production; and 2 per cent increase machine efficiency. In addition, machine operators are now able to hold to closer quality tolerances in producing better, more uniform grades of paper.

"While we cannot pinpoint the exact influence of the computer in the process, it is an integral part of the program which has enabled us to achieve these improvements," Pringle said.

175 Factors

D. E. McKee, vice president of IBM's Data Processing Division, described Mead's process control program as, "... one of the most advanced uses of computer equipment for process control in the paper industry."

Mead Corp. — which operates some 40 paper machines — has plans to install four new IBM 1800 data acquisition and control systems on additional lines, including the new multi-million dollar paper machine at the Kingsport, Tenn., mill. Each 1800 is capable of operating several machines simultaneously.

In the Chillicothe control system, information on 175 variable factors influencing the production of paper is continuously sensed by process instrumentation along the machine. Approximately 20 of the most important measurements are flashed to the computer where computations are performed, and from which instructions are directed back to the paper machine operators so they can make any necessary changes required to maintain standard operation.

A number of factors, such as stock flows, machine speeds, temperatures and pressures are under computer closed-loop control. This is particularly helpful in making grade changes. Mead and IBM have been working on the project for two years.

Dr. John C. Redd, vice president-research for Mead, said that the ability to hold to more consistent quality in any grade of paper from run-to-run is one of the major benefits. The many variables in paper machine operation can be held within extremely close tolerances each time a particular grade is scheduled, even when operating conditions change.

"Mead makes and sells 600 different grades and basis weight papers. And, changing from one grade to another is costly — for production time on most paper machines is valued in hundreds of dollars per hour," Redd said.

Because of the vital impact that the process control program will eventually have on the total management information system, coordination with Dayton staff departments and IBM has been an integral part of the program. This has been accomplished through the office of H. T. Mead, then vice president-finance, and R. A. Gilbert, vice president-administration.

Working with a team of staff personnel from Research, Operations Research, and Corporate Engineering Department, the project was coordinated with top mill personnel. Oliver Christiansen, who came to Chillicothe from Mead's Escanaba mill, now represents the Operating Group from his position as assistant division manager.

Motorists Warned About U-Turns At City Intersections

Escanaba police, who ticketed five drivers Thursday for making improper U-turns at a Ludington St. intersection, warned motorists today that a U-turn at any intersection, marked or not, is against state law.

Main problem in Escanaba is at Ludington and 4th St., officers said. The intersection is not specifically marked with "No U-Turn" signs.

Police said U-turns are illegal in the middle of blocks where not specifically prohibited, but that a U-turn at any intersection, including residential corners, is illegal.

Drivers given tickets for improper U-turns yesterday were: Michael J. Kositzky, Rte. 1, Bark River; Floyd Therrian Jr., 30 N. 5th St., Wells; Larry E. Deiter, Rte. 1, Gladstone; Thomas R. Rockman, 1306 11th Ave., S.; and Ronald R. Lindstrom, Rock.

Police also ticketed Louis M. Brunette, 1403 Washington Ave., for making an improper left turn (failed to yield right of way).

New Hayfever Clues Found

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
AP Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—With the aid of an airplane, a physician says he's found clues to help victims of hay fever and asthma.

The clues involve the way warm air currents and cool air carry around the pollen grains and mold spores triggering these ailments.

Atomic fallout is apparently moved about in much the same way, so "we are not helpless in our control of fallout" or of pollen, Dr. Herman A. Heise of Milwaukee, Wis., said today.

"We can avoid much of it by staying in the warmer city rather than in the cooler country. Smoke screens and the resulting clouds prevent radiation of heat, thus minimizing fallout," he told the Aerospace Medical Association.

"Our findings indicate we can prophesy pollen counts as accurately as we can prophesy the weather," he said. "Yesterday's (pollen) counts may be interesting, but tomorrow's estimate has practical value" for victims of hay fever.

Heise and associates, in a private plane, trapped and counted pollen grains and mold spores at heights up to 20,000 feet.

A simple mechanism seems chiefly responsible for the rising and falling of these solid particles, he said.

"When the earth is heated by the sun, the lighter warmer air at the surface balloons upward through the cooler air, causing instability, and the upward currents carry the tiny solid particles into the clouds and haze layer," Heise said.

"At night with clear skies, conditions are reversed. The earth cools by radiation, so that the air above now is warmer than the air near the ground. Upward currents cease, and the now-stable air allows the particles to settle. The haze layer actually drifts earthward, carrying the particles with it."

Unlimited Boat Race Cancelled

The Bay de Noc Regatta for unlimited hydroplanes scheduled by the American Power Boat Association for Escanaba July 11 has been cancelled.

Decision to cancel was made Thursday by the Board of Directors of the Bay de Noc Racing Association.

Vote of the 13-member board was 11-1 in favor of cancellation with one absentee.

In a letter addressed to A. E. Steiner Jr., president of Unlimiteds, Inc., of Detroit, the Racing Association said:

Schools Reopen In Hamtramck

HAMTRAMCK (AP)—A four-day unscheduled vacation for Hamtramck's 4,000 public school children was at an end today with settlement of a teachers' "sit-in" over their pay rates.

The city's School Board and Hamtramck Local 1025 of the American Federation of Teachers (AFL-CIO) agreed Thursday night on pay raises ranging from $200 to $650 a year.

Immediately upon the settlement and Local 1025's rank and file ratification of the terms, the board announced today's re-opening of the city's six schools.

Negotiators reached their understanding as Circuit Court Judge John B. Swainson paused in his decision on a school board demand for a restraining order against the teachers' sit-in.

Judge Swainson, former Michigan Democratic governor, announced the settlement to a court room filled with school children attending his hearing.

The settlement brings teacher starting pay to $5,200 a year. Beforehand, it was $5,000. After 11 years experience the pay will have stepped up to $8,800. It has been $8,150.

The union originally demanded respective increases of $400 and $950. The school board's last rejected offer was $300 across-the-board plus an additional $100 for teachers with master's degrees.

Kenya Rejects Soviet Gift Of Old Used Arms

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP)—Kenya has rejected a gift shipment of arms from the Soviet Union, claiming they are old, second hand and of no use to Kenya's modern army.

President Jomo Kenyatta told newsmen the arms—including World War II-type tanks—arrived earlier in the week by ship.

Shipping officials said the consignment included more than 20 tanks and a number of armed troop carriers.

ma. Both railroad stations in Seattle were damaged and huge chunks of concrete fell from the roof of the Union Pacific Railway Depot in Tacoma.

No major damage was reported at the giant Boeing Co., but glass and plaster was broken in some buildings and the men working in those were sent home for the day.

In Olympia, Gov. Dan Evans, a civil engineer, ordered the Capitol building evacuated. The 287-foot-tall Capitol dome that rises above the legislative chambers was cracked and daylight could be seen through the wall in one place.

High up in the rotunda, columns had been sheared off at the base and the five-ton chandelier that dangles at the end of a 110-foot chain turned in a small orbit for more than an hour.

Boulders On Highway

Panes in the skylight clattered down on desks of the legislators whose morning sessions had not yet begun. Legislators, in session for a record 106 days, went home until Monday.

"We were pretty lucky," Evans said. "If it had been another 30 seconds at that intensity it would have been much worse."

He said President Johnson telephoned his sympathy and an offer of help. Alaska's Gov. William Egan also called and offered aid.

Ironically, the State Civil Defense Department had planned an earthquake drill next week. The governor said the drill was planned because of a study of the Alaska earthquake indicated the next major tremor was likely to occur in the Pacific Northwest.

Boulders rolled down onto the Stevens Pass highway in the Cascade Mountains east of Seattle and chunks of earth sloughed off some peaks. Damage to the Tacoma Narrows Bridge, whose predecessor plunged into Puget Sound in a high wind a quarter of a century ago, was estimated at $10,000.

A slide carved out a block-and-a-half long, 15-foot-deep, 50-foot-wide hole in nearby Edmonds swallowing up an abandoned water shed.

One woman said the slide sounded like popcorn as the trees snapped and slid into the holes. A cranotomy was halted at the University of Washington Hospital when the surgeon feared swaying overhead lights might fall on the patient. The delicate operation was resumed five minutes later.

Youngsters still at the breakfast table were snatched by frightened mothers. Most people headed for doorways or climbed under protective covering. Not so, Victor Wrangler.

He was just getting ready to step into the tub, his wife explained.

"When the water began sloshing, he hung on to something and waited."

Will Pipe Gas

LANSING (AP)—Consumers Power Co. has been granted permission by the State Public Service Commission to construct a 4.3 mile pipeline from its St. Clair compressor station to the Ira gas storage field in Ira Township, St. Clair County. Cost of the construction is estimated at $407,000.

The crew will work a 6-day work week and pipe and other materials already are on hand at strategic points along the right-of-way of the pipeline for use in the construction. Michigan Consolidated's Detroit office reported today that the pipeline contractors planned to complete the line by Aug. 15.

From Powers-Spalding it will extend east to Rapid River, serving all the communities enroute, and west to Iron River, serving the communities on that route.

The distribution system construction will take additional time but Michigan Consolidated plans to have service to all the areas on its Upper Peninsula project this fall before start of the heating season.

The City of Escanaba will decide in a special election on June 1 whether it will sell its propane gas utility to Michigan Consolidated for $725,000 and take service from the private utility.

If the city does not sell it will buy natural gas from Michigan Consolidated and distribute it in its city-owned system, which would be converted to the handling of natural gas.

Consultants Say "Sell"

The Escanaba City Council hired Black & Veatch, Kansas City, Mo., consulting engineers, to make a study of the city's gas utility and a recommendation on retention or sale. Black & Veatch said if the city could get $600,000 for its utility it would gain no advantage from owning it. It is the last city-owned gas utility left in Michigan.

When City Council and city officials negotiated an offer of $725,000 from Michigan Consolidated, Black & Veatch advised sale. City voters will have to approve sale by 60 per cent in order to authorize it in the June 1 election.

In Gladstone Michigan Consolidated will build its distribution system because that city has no gas utility at present.

Firemen Win In New York Test

WHITE PINE, N.Y.—Judge Gerald Nolan, of the Supreme Court of Westchester County, has dismissed a suit by 10 major Eastern railroads seeking to have the New York State Safe Crew Law declared unconstitutional. Judge Nolan ruled that the law was not unreasonable and the New York Legislature had the right to enact such laws.

The jurist spelled out the qualifications, duties and responsibilities of locomotive helpers (firemen), who are required on all locomotives operating in New York State, by law.

H. E. Gilbert, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, called the decision "a significant victory" in the long fight over railroad crew sizes. He predicted it would become an important precedent in other safe crew law disputes now being argued in various states and before other courts.

Mich. Con. Will Start Monday On Gas Pipeline

The Federal Power Commission in Washington today affirmed an order of its examiner granting authority to Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. to build a natural gas pipeline in the southern part of the Upper Peninsula.

Work starts on construction of the pipe line at Menominee next Monday morning with the Ohio Pipe Line Co. as contractors for the construction.

The first "spread" of construction will use 50 pieces of machinery and 200 workmen and will construct the pipe line north to its "Y" at Powers-Spalding, with completion to that point scheduled on May 22.

The crew will work a 6-day work week and pipe and other materials already are on hand at strategic points along the right-of-way of the pipeline for use in the construction. Michigan Consolidated's Detroit office reported today that the pipeline contractors planned to complete the line by Aug. 15.

From Powers-Spalding it will extend east to Rapid River, serving all the communities enroute, and west to Iron River, serving the communities on that route.

The distribution system construction will take additional time but Michigan Consolidated plans to have service to all the areas on its Upper Peninsula project this fall before start of the heating season.

The City of Escanaba will decide in a special election on June 1 whether it will sell its propane gas utility to Michigan Consolidated for $725,000 and take service from the private utility.

If the city does not sell it will buy natural gas from Michigan Consolidated and distribute it in its city-owned system, which would be converted to the handling of natural gas.

Consultants Say "Sell"

The Escanaba City Council hired Black & Veatch, Kansas City, Mo., consulting engineers, to make a study of the city's gas utility and a recommendation on retention or sale. Johnson Likes His Back Yard Walkie-Talkies

Pete failed to turn aside in time for a gardener's truck and collided with the tailgate.

Women reporters have a time of it with high heels. These aren't the best footwear for the roughened driveway or occasional sorties onto the turf.

Some of them have learned to stash away "flats" in the White House press room, in case they have time to grab them when Press Secretary George E. Reedy wanders into the lobby and asks: "Would anyone like to take a walk?"

Dogs Come Along

Reporters and the President, plus security officers and some of the White House staff are the only people who go on the tramps around the driveway. But Johnson always wants his dogs out, too.

Thursday's tour was a seven-lap affair of about a third of a mile to the lap. That ran the distance up to a little more than two miles.

The record was set last summer just before the Democratic National Convention. This one lasted an estimated 17 laps and 3½ hours by the count of gasping reporters who weren't too sure. Johnson dropped a hint of something that eventually materialized—that he might tap Hubert H. Humphrey as a vice-presidential running mate.

Anarchy Looms As Menace In Santo Domingo

fense around the hotel, which was packed with foreign residents or tourists caught in the fighting.

One unit of Marines guarded the U.S. Embassy. Thursday they killed two rebel snipers who fired at them from a rooftop and apartment windows. The Marines shot back from the cover of automobiles parked on the tree-shaded lawn of the embassy. No Marine casualties were reported.

At least three other snipers were killed by Dominican troops.

Embassies of El Salvador, Peru, Mexico and Ecuador reported similar sniper attacks.

The State Department announced that "emergency action is being taken by the United States to provide food, medical supplies, and emergency hospital facilities to assist the victims of the present violence."

"The situation in Santo Domingo has continued to deteriorate," the State Department said. "Law and order have ceased to exist. Calls for cease-fire have thus far been ignored."

The United States planned to send in mobile hospital units, including one from Puerto Rico. But some of the roving bands of rebels have failed to respect the Red Cross symbol.

U.S. officials said Col. Francisco Caamaño had emerged as the leader of the rebel army officers.

The chief of the military junta is Col. Pedro Bartolomei Benoit, an air force officer. He was one of three men picked by Gen. Elias Wessin y Wessin, the military strongman in the Dominican Republic, to make up a junta after the rebels forced the civilian triumvirate headed by Donald Reid Cabral to resign.

Benoit wrote Ambassador Bennett Thursday requesting U.S. Marines for "temporary intervention and assistance in restoring order."

Truce Spurned By Pakistani

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP)—Pakistan turned down Indian terms for a cease-fire in the disputed Rann of Kutch area today.

A government spokesman said the Indian-Pakistani fighting could not end on terms suggested by Indian Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri.

India demanded restoration of the status quo before the fighting erupted April 9. This would mean Pakistan would have to withdraw from areas it considers to be Pakistani.

Washington and London are both trying to bring an end to the fighting in the barren wasteland about 150 miles southeast of Karachi. British and American envoys in both countries have been actively working for a cease-fire.

An official Indian spokesman charged in New Delhi Thursday night that a Pakistani brigade—about 3,000 fighting men—was moving southwest from Biar-Bet deeper into Indian territory in the Kutch and was being shelled by Indian guns.

Sportsmen Back Turkey Project With Rewards

The Mid-County Sportsmen's Club of Stephenson has backed the Michigan Department of Conservation's wild turkey planting project in the Upper Peninsula with a $50 reward to any person who gives information about the illegal killing or taking of wild turkeys.

The Conservation Department has planted 19 turkeys from Lower Michigan in Menominee County west of Stephenson. Two of the birds have died.

The sportsmen said by resolution that they would "do all in their power to assist the Department in its efforts to establish these game birds in the county."

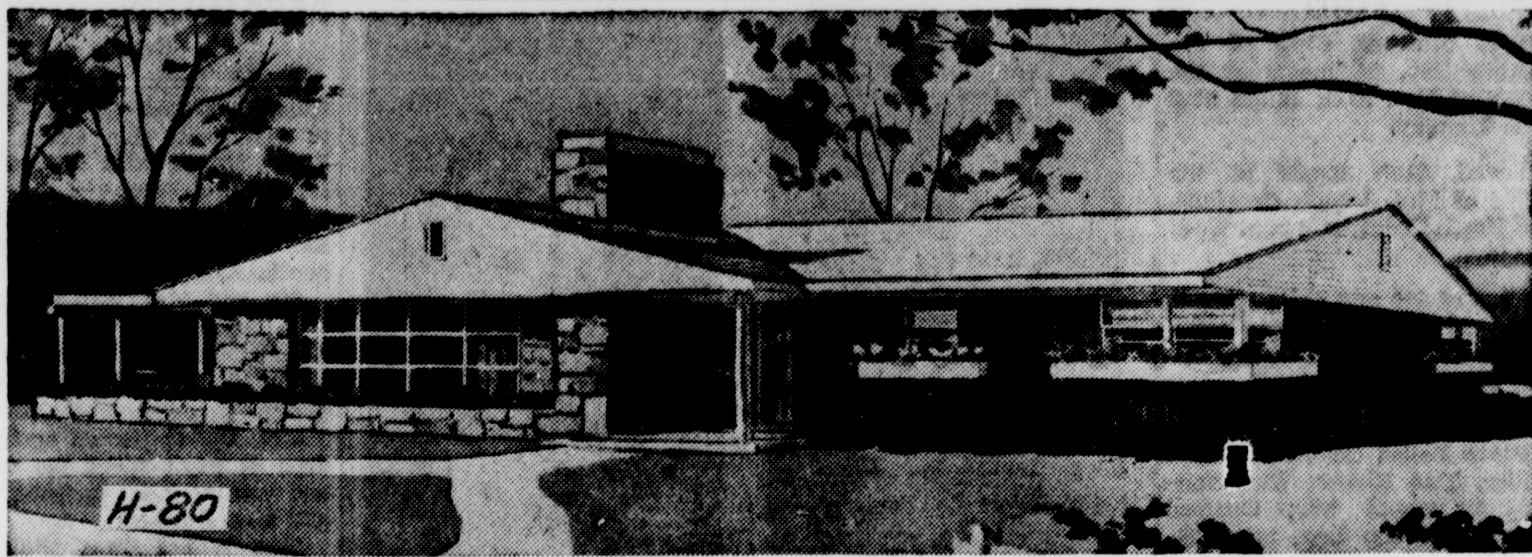

The club agreed to provide several signs to be posted in the area where the plantings were made, indicating that wild turkeys had been introduced and asking the cooperation of all persons in their protection.

TRIM COMFORT: Compact, pleasant appearance of this three-bedroom house is duplicated on the inside by complete utilization of all available space. Terrace at left side of house and covered porch in rear afford opportunity for outdoor living.

Outdoor-Indoor Living

by ANDY LANG

In this day and age, you expect to find plenty of ways and means to enjoy outdoor living in and around large, expensive homes.

And you do.
But when a modest house is designed to permit its occupants to combine outdoor and indoor living, it's likely to bring more compliments from guests than do the same advantages in a mansion-type residence. Architects are getting more and more requests for such houses and have been taxing their talents to create them. Some interesting designs have resulted.

A typical example is this one-story, six-room traditional house turned out by architect Rudolph A. Matern. It has a pleasant exterior, combining what have become popular architectural features—a large gable that extends over the trance, permitting complete separation of the bedroom wing from the rest of the house. What it also has is a plan for enjoyment of the outdoors from the living-dining area.

The living room has a bow window and an attractive fireplace. Its chimney block creates the separator between the room and the foyer. On the other side of the room, opposite the fireplace, are sliding glass doors leading to a spacious terrace. A wooden pergola or horizontal trellis extends over the terrace from the gable end, giving the house a look of extra length. This type of covering produces slanted shadows across the terrace when the sun or moon is out. For those who desire more control of the sun, the pergola could be covered with a roll-away slat screen.

Another outdoor area is the weather-covered porch at the rear of the dining room, with sliding glass doors permitting easy passage. A glance at the floor plan shows an unusually long vista for a house of this size. From the bow window at the front of the living room to the end of the rear porch, there is a sweep of 35'. And from the center hall foyer through the living room to the end of the terrace, the sweep is just as long. This is an ideal arrangement to give the feeling of outdoor living even when one is on the inside.

One of the more pleasing

FLOOR PLANS: Dining-living wing of this one-story traditional home is featured by open design, with sliding glass doors between living room and terrace, and between dining room and covered rear porch, an excellent arrangement for entertaining.

Study Of Floods At Indian Lake Granted $60,000

LANSING (AP) — Lt. Gov. William Milliken today reported that the U.S. Corps of Engineers has allotted $60,000 for preparation of a report on flood problems at Indian Lake, Schoolcraft County.

Milliken termed the report essential, saying flooding costs to residents in the Indian Lake area have averaged about $15,600 a year.

The tentative plan by the Corps of Engineers, Milliken said, is to construct a diversion canal to help control lake levels during flood periods. Tentative site of the channel would be the southeast end of Indian Lake.

Admitted to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital were Althea Hokenson, Curtis; Lena Landwehr, Rte. 1; Noreen Mattson, Grand Marais; Kathleen Pann, Curtis; Sarah Novak, Gulliver; Kristen Beaudry, Munising.

Rifle Association Bans Extremists

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An official of the National Rifle Association says the organization is double-checking its membership in an effort to eliminate any members of extremist groups.

Franklin L. Orth, executive vice president of the 700,000-member NRA, told interviewers Thursday that the association "has been taking a beating" because of alleged links between it and super-rightist groups.

"If we catch any of our members belonging to the Minutemen, Ku Klux Klan, Black Muslims or any vigilante organization they are put out immediately," he said.

Orth was in Los Angeles to address the Adjutants General Association of the United States, which ended a five-day meeting Thursday.

Redskins Win On Grand Slam

HERMANSVILLE — A bases loaded homerun off the bat of Harry Gordon in the eighth inning gave Hermansville an 11-7 decision over Pembine in Big Seven Conference baseball action Thursday.

The hit was only the third for the Redskins off the pitch- ing of Burry Venstra who fanned nine batsmen.

Dennis McClure scattered seven hits and whiffed eight batters for the victory.

Milwaukee Ball Club Gets Cold Shoulder Treatment

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The thaw finally has set in at Milwaukee and as expected the attendance soared.

As a matter of fact, it almost doubled — to 2,182.

Despite mild, 67-degree weather, the fans continued to apply the cold shoulder treat- ment Thursday night as the Atlanta-bound Braves defeated the world champion St. Louis Cardinals 4-1.

"This isn't baseball weather," has been the cry of Braves' of- ficials during a cold wave that had attendance plunging as low as a topeless bathing suit. But, unofficial as it is, there seems little doubt that there will be a fan boycott of the Braves this season.

Attendance for the entire three-game set against the world champions totaled 5,183. And in their last six games the Braves haven't drawn enough to fill County Stadium once, with only 14,740 paying customers.

Meanwhile, the players, who have been under strict orders not to discuss the situation, have remained mum publicly. But privately many expressed surprise Thursday at seeing the small crowd dotting the stands in good weather.

In other games, Don Drysdale outdueled Juan Marichal in the Los Angeles Dodgers' 2-1 victory over San Francisco, the Chicago Cubs whipped Cincinnati 6-3 and Baltimore edged Washing- ton 5-4. All other clubs were idle.

Hank Aaron hit his first homer for the Braves in the eighth inning but they already had put the game away in the fifth in- ning when a throwing error by Curt Flood and a wild pitch by Curt Simmons led to two runs.

Pitcher Bob Sadowski got the Braves started in the fifth with a single, raced to third on Fel- lice Alou's single and then headed home when Flood's throw-in bounced into the dug- out. Alou proceeded to third, scoring when Simmons un- corked a wild pitch.

Sadowski, forced to retire when he injured his knee sliding into third, allowed only two hits before he left. Billy O'Dell fin- ished up a four-hitter.

Tommy Davis drove in both Dodger runs in support of Drys- dale, who brought his record to 3-2 with a four-hitter. Marichal, also 3-2, surrendered five hits before leaving for a pinch hitter in the seventh.

Davis tripled in the fourth inning, following a single by Wes Parker, to tie the score. In the sixth, Maury Wills singled, took second on a bunt, stole third and came home on another Davis single.

The Giants scored their only run in the second inning on a walk and singles by Jim Hart and Jose Pagan.

The Cubs got the job done with a four-run, sixth-inning uprising that broke up a score- less duel between Cal Koonce and the Reds' Jim O'Toole.

Billy Williams opened the sixth with a double and Ron Santo followed with a single. Pete Rose then dropped a throw on Ernie Banks' grounder, al- lowing Williams to score. A walk loaded the base before Koonce singled one run home and Glenn Beckert singled in two more.

The winning blow came off Phil Ortega, who drew an auto-

Mike Kolinske took the 100 and 220 yard dashes for Garden. The only other double winner in the meet was Phil Hartman of Cooks who copped the pole vault and 440 yard dash.

Performances in most events were outstanding in spite of a stiff wind that hampered run- ners.

Braves Tune Up For Invitation

The Gladstone Braves tuned up for Saturday's Newberry Invitational by taking honors in a triangular track and field meet against Rock and Per- kins this week.

Top individual performance was a 2:09.3 half mile by Carl Norkoli, which is tops in the Upper Peninsula this spring.

Mike Gobert ran the 100 yard dash in 10.5 seconds, matching the season's best by Dick Berlinski of Kingsford.

Gary Englund set a new school record in the mile with a 4:54 clocking and Ricky Ebbesen stepped the high hurdles in 16.8. The mile relay team of Englund, Norkoli, Bruce Eli- son and Bruce Hawkinson was clocked in 3:58.5.

Strong Stretch Runners Worry Bold Lad's Owner

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — There's no doubt in Bill Winfrey's mind that Bold Lad is the best horse in the Kentucky Derby, but he admits he can't stop worrying about two or three others in the field of 11 that have reputations as strong stretch runners.

"I'm not worried a bit about any speed horses in his race," the veteran trainer said. "Speed, of course, is a big factor in racing but I don't think that a horse like Flag Raiser can win it. He's just not a 1 1/4-mile horse."

"My concern is with the horses that will be coming from behind," Winfrey said. "I think I'm running the best horse, but the most successful jockey in Derby history and the man who has won this race on the last three mounts he's had in it.

With 11 starters, the Derby will have a gross value of $154,500, making it the eighth richest in history.

Winner Gets $112,000

The winner will pick up a purse of $112,000, while $25,000 will go to the second-place finisher. Third place is worth $12,500 and fourth $5,000.

The Saturday forecast calls for fair and warm weather and the track should be lightning fast.

Post time is set for 4:45 p.m. EST., for the first jewel of the Triple Crown.

The race will be carried on national radio and television (CBS) from 4-5 p.m.

Bold Lad, running under the colors of Mrs. H.C. Phipps' Wheatley Stable, is expected to get his main competition from those stretch runners which are on Winfrey's mind.

Tom Rolfe, a bay colt from the Powhatan Stable of Raymond Guest, was listed by the official odds maker at Churchill Downs as the second choice at 4-1. Tom Rolfe won the Stepping Stone purse.

The third choice is Mrs. Ada L. Rice's Lucky Debonair at 5-1 while Florida Derby winner Native Charger, owned by Albert Warner, was listed at 8-1.

Another horse from which Winfrey expects trouble is Hail to All, who has been out of the money only twice in 18 starts. This bay colt, owned by Mrs. Ben Cohen, will be handled for the first time by jockey Manual Ycaza. Hail to All is listed at 10-1.

Flag Raiser, a colt with blistering speed who has won three straight stakes races, will open at 10-1. Flag Raiser is owned by Isidor Bieber and ridden by Bob Ussery.

Listed at 15-1 is Ogden Phipps' Dapper Dan, who will be handled by Milo Valenzuela. At 12-1 is Arkansas Derby winner Swift Ruler, owned by Earl Allen and ridden by Larry Spoker.

At 20-1 is Mr. Pac, owned by Mrs. Mary Keim and ridden by Jimmy Nichols. Rounding out the field at 30-1 are John W. McCom's Narushua and Perne L. Grissom's Carpenter's Rule. Terry Dunlavy will be up on Narushua and Bill Harmsatz will ride Carpenter's rule.

Vasko Latest Hawks' Hero

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Black Hawks and their latest hero, defenseman Moose Vasko, will try to turn in a repeat performance of their semifinal series and win the Stanley Cup in Montreal Saturday night.

The Hawks, who have been rebounding ever since the playoffs began a month ago, did it again Thursday night when they scored a pair of goals in the final period for a 2-1 victory over the Montreal Canadiens.

Vasko, who had scored only one goal during the regular season, came up with his first playoff goal since 1961 at 6:06 of the final period to tie the game.

A couple of minutes later, Doug Mohns scored on a power play and the Hawks held on for their third triumph against three losses in the best-of-7 series.

Neither team as yet has been able to win away from home, giving the Canadiens a decided advantage in the final game. But the Hawks are taking heart in the fact that the semifinal series went the same way until they scored the clincher in Detroit in the seventh game.

"It's anybody's series now," said General Manager Tommy Ivan of the Hawks. "Sure they'll be favored on their home ice but so was Detroit and we won. When you get down to the seventh game for the Cup, anyone can win it."

Chicago Coach Billy Reay had high praise for Vasko, Pierre Plante and goalie Glenn Hall. Vasko's tying goal, Plante's inspirational play and Hall's late save added to the victory.

Ralph Backstrom, blanked in 11 games, gave the Canadiens the lead with a goal at 11:57 of the second period. The Canadiens didn't get close to another score until 1 1/2 minutes remained when Bobby Rousseau fired a shot which Hall grabbed behind his back.

Tiger Third Base Coach Stranger To Most Fans

DETROIT (AP) — Third base coach Frank Skaff easily is the least known of all the members of the Detroit Tigers.

Skaff moved to the coaching line when Bob Swift was named interim manager following Charlie Dressen's heart attack.

But Skaff, though unfamiliar to the Detroit fans, is not new to the job of a third base coach. "I managed a lot in the minors and down there the manager is always coaching third," Skaff explained.

A former third baseman with Brooklyn, Washington and the Philadelphia Athletics, Skaff managed in the minors before joining Jimmy Dykes when Baltimore re-entered the American League in 1954.

He was released when Paul Richards took over and joined the Tigers as a scout and minor league manager.

Skaff coached one pennant winner at Montgomery and boasts of never having finished out of the first division with a club he managed the whole season.

If he were not pressed into service as a coach with the Tigers, Skaff would be scouting in the Baltimore and Washington, D.C. area.

Later, after Dressen returns, he will tour the various pro leagues looking for players he feels will help the Tigers or teams in the minor league system.

In his first year as a scout for the Tigers, Skaff signed pitcher Bob Humphreys who had a brief stay with the Tigers and now toils for the Chicago Cubs.

He estimates that 70 per cent of the present Tigers played for him at some point in their minor league climb to the majors.

"And I can honestly say that they had that major league potential even when they were in some of the lower, ranking leagues," Skaff says.

While none of the players he managed developed at a surprising rate, Skaff said Gates Brown was one of the youngsters who caught his eye.

"We got him out of a Class B league and brought him to Denver and he hit .300," Skaff recalled.

But most of all, Skaff has a respect for the Tigers' organization.

"There aren't many teams that can reach into the minors and pick up coaches capable of taking over a major league team. Look at Bob Swift now," he observed.

Skaff says knowing the throwing capabilities of the opposing fielders and the speed of your own runners are the two most important things a third base coach must know.

Basketball Camp At Northern In Three Sessions

MARQUETTE — Northern Michigan University's Third Annual Basketball Camp sponsored in co-operation with Northern's Public Service Division, will be held in three one-week sessions during June and August, according to director Stan Albeck, NMU's head basketball coach.

For the first time since the program was inaugurated in 1963, the sessions will be divided into three age groups. The first session, for all boys 14 to 17 years of age, will be held June 13-19. The second session, for young men 17 years of age and up, is scheduled for August 1-7. And the third session, for boys 11 to 14 years old, is slated for August 15-21.

Registrations for all sessions are now open, with the deadline for the first session being June 5. Registrations for the second session will be accepted through July 24 and the deadline for the third session is July 31.

Inquiries should be addressed to: Stan Albeck, Basketball Coach, Northern Michigan University, Marquette, Michigan 49855.

Albeck said the camp objectives are to "make the boy a better basketball player through an intensified program emphasizing conditioning, fundamentals and team play."

The program includes lodging in an NMU dormitory and meals in a campus cafeteria; supervision by University counselors and staff who will live in the dorms; recreation, such as swimming, softball, tennis and other sports, as well as basketball movies and a cook-out at Presque Isle Park; and a citizenship hour to be conducted each morning with a state trooper, University dean and a judge as special guests.

Cost of the program is $30 for those who live at home and $60 for those who reside on campus. The "on campus" price includes board and room.

Adequate medical supervision will be provided by the University, and NMU's athletic training room will be available. All boys will be furnished a personalized locker. A certificate of merit will be awarded to participants upon completion of the camp.

Each participant must furnish a doctor's statement of health and provide his own personal basketball gear, including uniform, shoes and socks.

Included among the many Upper Peninsula boys who attended previous camps are Dom Jacobetti of Negaunee St. Paul, Bruce Forstrom of Marquette, Paul Santoni and Rich McCarthy of Kingsford, Torger Omdahl of Stambaugh, Tom Brawley of Manistique, Bruce Pasola of Marquette Baraga, Pat Miller of Menominee, Gary Ollila of Mass, Dan Purple of Gwinn and Dane Dominici of Iron River.

1. Card of Thanks

Olson

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to the many friends and relatives who by their acts of kindness in the recent death of our husband and father, Richard M. Olson, helped to lighten our burden of sorrow. Especially do we thank the Rev. George Olson for his comforting words, the pallbearers, music of the service, the Ladies of Trinity Lutheran Church, those who sent cards of sympathy, Sisters and nurses of St. Francis Hospital, and friends who sent floral bouquets. The memory of your kindnesses will remain alive.

Mrs. Richard Olson
and Family
